Material de agarre recomendado

Recommended bonding material

ES

CARACTERÍSTICAS DE LOS MATERIALES DE AGARRE

Una característica fundamental, la adherencia:

Es muy importante en la elección del material de agarre, la adherencia o fuerza de unión que se establece entre la pieza cerámica y el soporte. Puede ser de dos tipos:

- Adherencia mecánica: se basa en la penetración de la cola o adhesivo en los poros de los materiales a unir. En los adhesivos a base de cemento predomina la adherencia mecánica.
- Adherencia química: contempla las formaciones de uniones químicas por contacto entre el adhesivo y la pieza. En los adhesivos a base de resinas poliméricas predomina la adherencia química.

Otras características

- Deformabilidad: en colocaciones sobre soportes donde se esperan movimientos de mediana o alta magnitud, sujetos a vibraciones o cambios térmicos, hay que utilizar un adhesivo deformable, baldosas de tamaño inferior a 30x30 cm, incrementar el ancho de juntas de colocación, e incrementar el número de juntas de partición.
- Resistencia al contacto permanente con el agua.
- Tiempo abierto: es el intervalo máximo de tiempo, tras la aplicación del adhesivo, durante el que las baldosas pueden ser colocadas sin que se pierda la capacidad de adherir adecuadamente. La superación del tiempo abierto del adhesivo es una causa frecuente del desprendimiento de baldosas. Es recomendable no extender el adhesivo en paños mayores de 2m² y comprobar periódicamente la pegajosidad de la pasta levantando una baldosa previamente colocada.

MATERIAL DE AGARRE BONDING MATERIAL	Adherencia Adhesion	Deformabilidad Deformability	Resistencia al contacto del agua Resistance to water contact
C1	Alta / High	(I)	Alta / High
C2	Muy alta / Very high	(I)	Alta / High

• Si el adhesivo dispone de la característica adicional de deformabilidad, el fabricante lo indicará (S1 ó S2)
• If the adhesive additionally has deformable properties, then this will be stated by the manufacturer (S1 or S2)

CHARACTERISTICS OF BONDING MATERIALS

An essential characteristic, the adhesion:

In choosing a bonding material, a very important factor is the adherence or bonding strength established between ceramic tiles and the substrate. This may be of two types:

- Mechanical adhesion: this is based on the penetration of the glue-mortar or adhesive into the pores of the materials to be bonded together. Mechanical adhesion predominates among cement-based adhesives.
- Chemical adhesion: covers the formation of chemical bonds between the adhesive and the piece. Chemical adhesion predominates among polymeric resin-based adhesives.

Other characteristics

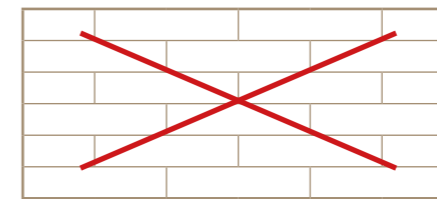

- Deformability: in installations on substrates where an average to high degree of movements is expected, or which are exposed to strong vibrations or thermal changes, the following measures should be taken: the use of a deformable adhesive, the selection of a tile format smaller than 30x30 cm., increased installation joint width, and an increased number of expansion joints.
- Resistance to permanent contact with water.
- Open time: the maximum time interval after the application of the adhesive, during which tiles may be installed without the adhesive losing its proper degree of bonding strength. Exceeding an adhesive's open time is a frequent cause of tiles becoming detached. It is recommended not to spread the adhesive in sections greater than 2m² and to regularly check the stickiness of the adhesive by prising up an already installed tile.

Consejos generales de colocación

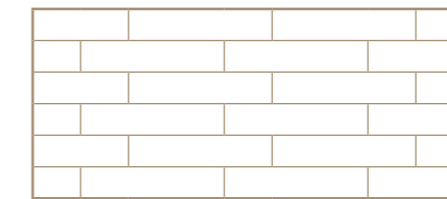

General installation advices

ES

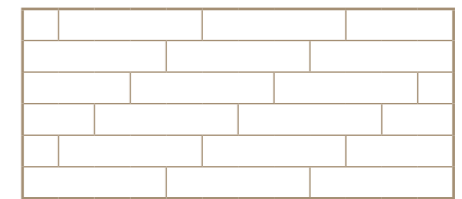

1. A pesar de que los formatos rectangulares, estéticamente, queden mejor colocándolos de forma trabada; no se recomienda colocarlos con la traba en mitad de la pieza. Para evitar problemas en la colocación, hay que ponerlos con una traba que no supere el 20% del lado sobre el que se aplica.

2. No hay que mojar las piezas cuando se coloquen con cementos cola (como son los cementos del tipo C1 y C2).
3. Se recomienda nivelar las superficies antes de la aplicación de los productos adhesivos (morteros, cementos cola, etc.).
4. Es necesario respetar las juntas estructurales, perimetrales y de dilatación.
5. Se recomienda colocar el producto mezclando varias cajas simultáneamente. Previamente a la colocación, se recomienda, extender diferentes piezas para verificar la uniformidad del tono.
6. Como norma no utilicen productos abrasivos. Para la limpieza usen agua y jabón.

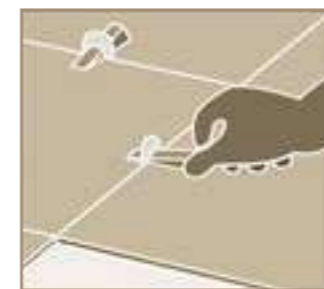

2. Never wet tiles if they are laid with glue-mortars (as they are, cements type C1 and C2).
3. We recommend to level the surfaces, before using adhesive products (mortars, adhesive cements, etc.).
4. Structural, perimetral and dilatation joints need to be respected.
5. We would recommend to fix the tiles mixing them simultaneously from different boxes. Before laying them, it is recommended, to spread different pieces, to check the shade evenness.
6. As a general rule, do not use abrasive products. Use water and soap to clean the tiles.

Uso de autoniveladores

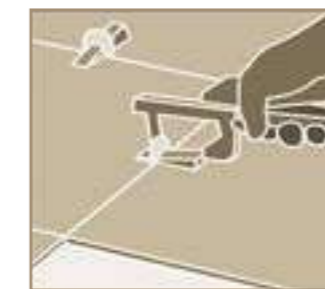

Tile leveling system

Los formatos de pavimento y revestimiento con alguno de sus lados superior o igual a 60 cm, deben colocarse con niveladores, para garantizar una correcta instalación.

In large format floor and wall tile pieces (equal or over 60cm on any of its sides) leveling clips must be used to ensure a proper installation of the tiles.

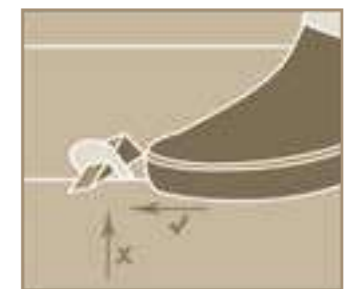

1. Colocación de las cuñas en los calzadores.

2. Apretar con el alicate especial.

3. Se pueden utilizar también con separadores.

4. Una vez secado el cemento cola, golpear lateralmente para romper el calzador.

*No es recomendable la utilización de azulejos cerámicos para exteriores.

Adhesivos cementosos (morteros-cola) (C):

Están constituidos por un ligante hidráulico (cemento Pórtland), arena de granulometría compensada y aditivos poliméricos y orgánicos.

*It's not recommended the use of ceramic tiles for exteriors.

Cement-based adhesives (glue mortars) (C):

These are made up of a hydraulic binder (Portland cement), graded sand and polymeric and organic additives.
